

Oh holy night...

This image shows how the letters can be arranged to look like cursive writing. This page is not to scale. Do not trace.

Handwriting practice sheet for the word "Pineapple". The word is written in a large, bubbly, cursive font. The letters are outlined in black, making them suitable for coloring. The word is arranged in two rows: "Pine" on the top row and "apple" on the bottom row. To the right of the word, there are three small, empty circles arranged vertically, likely for a dot-marker or tracing exercise.

The diagram consists of two main parts. On the left is a V-shaped structure labeled 'D', which is formed by two parallel lines that converge to a point at the bottom. On the right is a rectangular structure labeled 'B', which is a rectangle with a slightly irregular top edge, possibly representing a window or a specific architectural element. The letter 'D' is positioned in the upper part of the V-shape, and the letter 'B' is centered within the rectangular area.
